ADDITIONAL FEES:

Fee	Description	DOG	CAT
Brachycephalic	This fee is for pets who are flat-faced or short-nosed (i.e. Pugs, Bull Dogs, Persians, etc.) These animals are considered higher risk for anesthesia and require extra monitoring during recovery to make sure they are breathing normally.	$55	$45
Cryptorchid (Inguinal Only)	This fee is for male pets who have one or both testicles undescended and the testicle is stuck in the groin area. We do not do surgery on male pets who have an undescended testicle stuck in the abdomen.	$55 (per testicle)	$35 (per testicle)
In-Heat	This fee is for female pets who are either currently in-heat or recently finished a heat cycle. This condition is considered a higher risk for surgery because the reproductive tissue is more fragile, and the surgery can take longer than usual.	$75	$35
Pregnancy	This fee is for female pets who are pregnant at the time of surgery. The pregnancy is aborted at the time of surgery.	$80	$55
Overweight	This fee is for female pets who are either overweight or obese. The body condition of the pet is assessed by our veterinarian. This condition is considered a higher risk for surgery because the extra fat tissue makes the reproductive organ more fragile and more difficult for the doctor to isolate.	$80	$55
